

THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS

All the Life Was Taken Out of the Bulls Yesterday.

NEWS FAVERED THE FRIENDS OF WHEAT

Export Business Was Meagre and the Amount of Wheat and Flour Showed an Increase During the Last Week—Stocks and Bonds.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 12.—"Dead as dressed beef" was the condition today of the bulls in the wheat trade. While the hullaballoo put out of the pit, Partridges continued trading another hour and a half attempting to break the market. At 1:30 p.m. he started a battle, took advantage of the prevailing weakness and purchased steadily from noon until eve. Tonight he proclaimed that he was safe—entirely out of the way of the bulls. All the news seemed unfavorable for the friends of wheat. Cables were heavy and lower, domestic markets were tending downwards and the export business was meager and the amount of wheat and flour showed an increase during the last week of $6,500,000. The exports from India were 50 percent larger than the week previous—or $2,000,000 against $1,300,000 bu. and the shipments from all parts of the world to Europe were $4,120,000 bu. last week against $4,700,000 bu. the week previous. Long wheat came out freely and for a time there was little demand and although early deals of May wheat were made at 10:30 p.m. last night's close with sales as high as $10.50, the market was gradually homecoming with weakness and it did not take long to get the price to 70¢ for May and 74¢ for July.

The more the government report was discussed the stronger became the condition in a good many minds that it was by no means a bullish document. They admit that it is not bad, but far from being so good as the last year by possibly $6,000,000, but they also contend that the crop last year was 10,000,000 bu. larger than could well be disposed of, even with the bad condition in Europe and the withdrawal of Russia from the list of exporters. The market was quiet and uneventful, an unprecedented amount still unsold.
